What is this product?

Type	AVI Japan Opportunity Trust plc (“AJOT”), is a closed-end investment trust.
Objectives	The investment objective of AJOT is to provide Shareholders with capital growth in excess of the MSCI Japan Small-cap index, through the active management of a focussed portfolio of equity investments listed or quoted in Japan which have been identified by the Investment Manager as undervalued and having a significant proportion of their market capitalisation held in cash, listed securities and/or realisable assets.
Gearing	AJOT intends to use gearing (up to 25% of NAV).
Bid-offer spread	Shares of AJOT are bought and sold via markets. Typically, at any given time on any given day, the price you pay for a share will be higher than the price at which you could sell it.
Intended retail investor	Due to the nature of the investment strategy, this fund may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money within 4 years.

What are the risks and what could I get in return?

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets.

The manufacturer has classified this product as 3 out of 7, which is a low-medium risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a low-medium level.

Be aware of currency risk. If you are a non-UK investor, you will receive payments in a different currency, so the final returns you will get depend on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not considered in the indicator shown above.

This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment.

This table shows the money you could get back over the next 4 years, under different scenarios, assuming that you invest £1,000. The scenarios shown illustrate how your investment could perform. You can compare them with the scenarios of other products. The scenarios presented are an estimate of future performance based on evidence from the past on how the value of this investment varies, and are not an exact indicator. They are based on share price total return with dividends reinvested. What you get will vary depending on how AJOT's underlying investments perform, how the overall market performs and how long you keep the investment. The stress scenario shows what you might get back in extreme market circumstances, and it does not take into account the situation where AJOT is not able to pay you on its liquidation.

IMPORTANT NOTICE: Asset Value Investors Limited has followed the methodology prescribed by the Regulation (EU) 1286/2014 of the European Parliament and the Council (the 'Regulation') for the preparation of this document. The requirements of, and methodologies prescribed by, the Regulation are not specifically tailored to companies with publicly traded securities such as AJOT. In particular, for an investment product that has not yet launched (as is the case with AJOT) the Regulation requires that the potential future returns shown by the Performance Scenarios must be calculated using index returns over the past two years which may prove to be too optimistic and not necessarily indicative of future performance. Accordingly, investors are cautioned against relying on this Key Information Document to estimate future returns for AJOT or as a useful comparison against other investment products.

What happens if AVI Japan Opportunity Trust plc ("AJOT") is unable to repay?

AJOT is a closed-end investment trust company listed on the London Stock Exchange and therefore investors will be able to close their investments on each working day. As a shareholder of AJOT you would not be able to make a claim to the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (or equivalent overseas authorities in the case of non-UK shareholders) in the event that AJOT is unable to pay out.
