MANAGER'S COMMENT

MIGO's Share Price increased by 3.8% in May.

Despite hopes for global decline in interest rates dissipating, May saw markets gently recover some of the ground lost during April. Our net asset value appreciated modestly however a narrowing of the discount saw MIGO shares rise 3.8%

UK Smaller Companies

It was encouraging to see UK smaller companies bounce harder than the Footsie. Our portfolio has a small cap bias. There was a wide range of holdings making useful contributions but much of this progress was given up as Georgia Capital declined after a controversial "foreign agents" law was passed by the government sparking widespread protests. This has caused some significant weakness in the share price, but we are hopeful that the elections later in the year should provide some stability. The trust is allocating a substantial proportion of its annual cash flow towards buybacks between now and 2026. Given the shares trade at a more than 60% discount to its post crisis net asset value, these transactions will ratchet the nav higher.

Contributors

There was no trend which would explain why certain holdings proved to be contributors, it was all highly stock specific. River & Mercantile Microcap benefitted from improved sentiment towards small caps as discussed earlier.

Another holding which did well was Tufton Oceanic which owns a fleet of ships mainly bulkers and tankers which it leases to the major shipping lines. ESG rules are progressively restricting the speed that vessels can travel at. This effectively reduces supply at a time when shipyards have no capacity to build bulkers and tankers as demand for container ships has already filled their order books. Second hand values should remain firm. The trust recently announced that it would hand back to shareholders much of the proceeds of the disposal of their last container ships and wind down the trust commencing in 2028. Given the shares trade at a 26% discount that represents a useful pull to redemption. It is encouraging to see the managers buying a significant number of shares.

Continued production problems at Boeing helped Amedeo A4 Plus as a shortage of aircraft will underpin open market valuations to remain firm. Phoenix Spree drifted steadily higher despite a lack of news flow however the trust announced in April that it was looking to liquidate some of the portfolio and hand some of the proceeds back to shareholders. There was no obvious reason why Baker Steel Resources moved higher other than they started May at a very cheap level.

Detractors

Beside Georgia Capital, detractors were few and far between. Schiehallion drifted lower on profit taking post an extraordinarily strong run. VPC Speciality Lending was marked down on poor newsflow from WeFox, a dominant position in their portfolio.

India Capital Growth

India Capital Growth was a departure. The trust has benefited from a strong Indian stock market and a narrowing discount, returning 40%. A classic example of a MIGO holding. With valuations of mid and small Indian companies looking very full and the discount evaporating we decided it was time to move on.
